WE'RE LEARNING!

Homeroom:

Right before break, we put a lot of emphasis on bringing joy and kindness to others. This week we will focus on kindness and empathy.

Math:

We just started fractions! While some of this is a review, students bump it up a notch with comparing, ordering, and using equivalent fractions.

Writing:

A few things came up before break, so this week we are wrapping up our narratives!

Reading:

Our new theme for the next few weeks is: Making a Difference. Students will learn about others who made a difference and we will have a lot of discussion on how we can make a difference. Some students will instead start a novel study!

Science:

We have learned so much about being biologists! There are many facets to organisms and this week we learn how organisms can adapt to their environment to survive!

Religion:

LENT is our main focus for the next several weeks!

REMINDERS

*Have a fabulous
mid-winter break!*

TABLE TALK

This section is for a conversation piece you can talk about at the dinner table.

How can we show kindness? How can we practice positivity and seeing the best in others?
