WE'RE LEARNING!

Homeroom:

We have been working with Mrs. Patterson to practice ways we can talk kindly and respectfully to our peers! Sometimes that means asking for space, and sometimes that means making the choice to make your comments positive.

Math:

Measurement was a short chapter reviewing capacity, mass, and time. We will practicing measuring length when we get to our chapter with Area & Perimeter.

Writing:

This past week we started our Poetry unit with writing an Acrostic poem and an I Am poem. Ask your child about it!

Reading:

The next couple weeks, we will be reading about inventors and inventions! Ask your child what inventions in their home originated with Thomas Edison!

Social Studies:

During state reports this week, students practiced their map skills finding the capital, major cities, and landforms of their state.

Religion:

Our CRS lesson last week took us to Bangladesh! Ask your child what they learned!

REMINDERS

We are working on independence at school.
What are some ways your child can work on independence at home?

TABLE TALK

This section is for a conversation piece you can talk about at the dinner table.
What are some ways I can talk kindly and respectfully to my peers?
